Carey States His Case Concerning Proposed Bond Issue for Relief

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK
January 9, 1933.

C. J. Heiselman, Alderman-at-Large.
Paul A. Zucca, Alderman First Ward.
Ray A. Haines, Alderman Second Ward.
John J. Schwenz, Alderman Third Ward.
Judson Nelce, Alderman Tenth Ward.
L. T. Schoonmaker, Alderman Twelfth Ward.

I acknowledge your letter as published in The Freeman on January 5th, and The Leader on January 7th. The program of the Local Temporary Relief Bureau needs no defense. In replying to your letter, I am departing from my plan to avoid newspaper controversy, not to defend, but to enlighten our people with some facts and I am so doing because of the official positions occupied by the signers of the letter.

1. In the first place Mr. Heiselman was elected Alderman-at-Large. To preside over the meetings of the Common Council, fairly, without political prejudice and to take no side in an argument. So why should he compose and write the letter and be the first to sign?

2. The program, very carefully prepared and studied by the Work Relief Bureau, will cost to complete at least $160,000.00. Rather than ask the Council to issue bonds in amount large enough to finance the program, I suggested that only $100,000.00 be raised and the refunds be spent as they are received from the state. That holds down our bonded indebtedness and interest charges. So every dollar of the bond issue will be spent for wages, and thousands more, as it is received from the state. I so told the members of the Common Council on every occasion we met to discuss the matter.

3. They say "Out of the money appropriated last year for Work Relief, TOU bought a new steam roller— I never bought a thing because I am not a member of the Work Relief Bureau and have no voting power thereon."

But I defend the Bureau's purchase of the steam roller as an outright necessity. The Work Relief Bureau was doing much street work. They needed a roller for the two owned by the Board of Public Works were in use, together with two other rollers hired from Harp & Conway Construction Company, and Henry McNamee at a cost of $15.00 per day each. The Work Relief Bureau could not do their work without a steam roller and if they hired one the cost would have been greater than the price paid for the roller bought from the Universal Road Machinery of Kingston. Today the Work Relief Bureau is in possession of a first class steam roller, fully paid for. Following the desire of the Republican Councilmen the Bureau would today be without a roller and all the city would have to show would be canceled checks. Can the taxpayers complain?

4. The frame work at the stone crusher was repaired. It was reported to the authorities in 1931 as badly in need of repair and a menace to the workmen. The Work Relief Bureau was operating the quarry and they repaired the frame work. City carpenters did the work receiving $2.40 per day from the city. Can the taxpayers complain?

5. The rooms and halls on the first floor of the City Hall were badly in need of paint. That work was set up as a project and approved. One painter at $2.50 per day and a helper at $2.10 per day painted the Mayor's office, the police rooms, the Board of Health Rooms, the City Judge's chamber and office and the public toilets. Can the taxpayers complain about spending their money in this way? In the public washroom the ceiling had fallen in 1931 and nothing was done about it. The Work Relief Bureau repaired it, the work being done by a competent tinsmith receiving $2.10 per day. Why do the Republicans object?

6. When the men were working in Forsyth Park they discovered hundreds of dollars of playground equipment thrown to discard behind a building. The Work Relief Bureau set carpenters to work at $2.50 per day repairing them. They were placed in the playgrounds. Why do the Republicans object?

7. Removal of snow and ice was approved as a project. If the Board of Public Works did the work the labor would cost $3.50 per day. As a work relief project it cost $1.80 per day. Who should complain?

8. Removal of leaves was set up as a project and approved. The Work Bureau had no funds and so the Board of Public Works gave them money each week out of its funds to meet the pay roll. It was done as a relief project at $1.80 per day. Who should complain?

9. To the Work Relief Bureau, the Board of Public Works gave every piece of machinery, every tool and every utensil it had. It gave Superintendent Van Keuren to supervise, the timekeeper, the foreman, his trucks, the City Engineer's office and everything possible, all for nothing, the cost of which came out of the 1932 budget.

10. Why should Aldermen Haines and Schwenz refuse to follow the advice and program of the Work Relief Bureau and the administration when one of the projects in their wards call for the building of a $44,600.00 Storm Water Sewer along

Many to Attend Shriners' Ball

Everything indicates that it will be a brilliant crowd that will gather in the new armory on Friday evening, January 20, for the big ball which the Kingston Shriners' Association will give for the benefit of the children of the Industrial Home.

As from remarks heard on every side it would seem that the new armory will be taxed to its capacity by those who are looking forward with keen anticipation to this gala event.

A goodly number of tickets have been disposed of among the Shriners living in Saugerties, Catskill, Rosendale, New Paltz, Ellenville and surrounding territory.

Prominent members of Cyprus Temple in Albany will be in attendance and from New York City has come the word that a number of prominent Shriners from there will come to Kingston especially for this occasion.

It is not strange that so many will come from distant places as the reputation the Kingston Shriners' Association enjoys is well known and the charity for which the ball is held has no equal in this section.

The Shriners are also very much gratified at the enthusiastic comments made on their decision to employ only local musicians this year and while it is primarily their purpose to give employment to local musicians still they feel it is only fair to the local musicians to say that they consider the musical ability of the Kingston artists on par with any out of town musicians.

Shriners hope that those who have not already purchased their tickets will do so at the earliest possible date.

Stalin Says Soviets Are Independent

Moscow, Jan. 10 (AP).—A challenge was cast to "the capitalist world" today by Joseph V. Stalin in the industrial program he has mapped out for Russia for the next five years.

The Bolshevik chieftain announced a 16 per cent increase in general production over last year as this year's goal of the Socialist nation. The annual average increase for the second five year plan, now being inaugurated, must be 13 or 14 per cent, he said.

This, he declared, "would be impossible in capitalist countries."

Stalin announced his plans in a speech before a joint meeting of the Communist party central committee and the central control committee. It was made public three days later—his first speech made public in more than a year.

Claiming "the successful fulfillment of the (first) five year plan," he said its aim was "to change the country from one with the technique of the middle ages to one of contemporary technique—to make the nation independent of the whims of capitalism."

He admitted the program was actually only 93.7 per cent fulfilled. "But we did it in four years and three months," he added.

Japs Cut Chinese Off from Jehol

Tokyo, Jan. 10 (AP).—Japanese cavalry and infantry units occupied Chiumenkow Pass in the Great Wall of China today, blocking a further pouring of Chinese troops through that famous gate into Jehol.

It was the second strategic position taken by the Japanese in a week to frustrate Chinese attempts to defend the Manchurian province against impending invasion by Japanese military commanders.

Occupation of the Chinese city of Shanhaiwan just a week ago by Japanese shut off the eastern gate, only a short distance from where the wall comes down to the sea. Chiumenkow is 12 miles north of Shanhaiwan and near where the 2,000-year old barrier turns westward.

A communiqué from the Chinchow, Manchuria, headquarters of the Nishi Division said a Japanese column, mostly cavalry, left Shanhaiwan early today and occupied Chiumenkow at 9:15 a. m.

The bill was drawn to carry out Governor Lehman's recommendation to the legislature on prohibition and carried the approval of the Republican leaders as well as the Democrats.

The measure calls for the appointment of a commission of nine members, two from the legislature and seven from outside to study beer legalizing machinery and to prepare a model liquor control law for New York. An appropriation of $10,000 is requested to cover the commission's expenses.

The commission will submit its first report February 15, but will continue for the duration of the present legislative session.

Authorities Deny Beating S. Leko In Ulster County Jail

The story told by Steve Leko of Clintonville that he was badly beaten and kicked by State Troopers and others in the Ulster county jail on Wall street on Sunday night, is without foundation, according to the jail authorities and Sergeant Lockhart of the State Troopers. Sergeant Lockhart said that Leko had voluntarily accompanied Troopers Kline and McLennan of New Paltz to the county jail. The two troopers were in uniform at the time and were accompanied by E. J. Colwell, Jr., a representative of the state.

Leko, according to Sergeant Lockhart, was brought here so that some witnesses could see him and have an opportunity of identifying him. As soon as the witnesses had seen Leko he was taken back to Clintonville.

The story told by Sergeant Lockhart was also corroborated by Night Jailor Frank A. O'Reilly.

The Poughkeepsie Evening Star of Monday in reporting Leko's story of an alleged beating in the Ulster county jail on Sunday night states:

Telling a story of having been beaten, kicked, pummeled with boxing gloves, thrown to the floor, and of having his hair pulled in the cellar of the Kingston police station or jail, last night when state troopers and plainclothes investigators tried to get a confession from him in the Germond murders case, Steve Leko, 48, former Stanfordsville farmer, told a weird story today of a sensational third-degree examination he underwent. Last night his family told authorities of Dutchess county that they feared he had been kidnapped, when a man called at Leko's place of employment at Clintonville late yesterday afternoon, and said he was to take Leko to District Attorney Schwartz. Inquiry last night disclosed that neither Mr. Schwartz nor Sheriff Cookingham had directed that Leko be picked up for questioning.

In a highly nervous state, and with tears streaming from his eyes, Leko came to Dutchess county authorities this morning with the story of the beating to which he had been subjected. Dr. Albert R. Moffit was called to make an examination and he said Leko complained of pains in his right ribs, and chest, and over the region of the right kidney. The doctor ordered that Leko be taken to Vassar Hospital this afternoon for X-ray examinations.

Asked concerning the Leko angle of the investigation being conducted by representatives of the attorney general's office and by state troopers, E. J. Colwell, Jr., head of the state's inquiry, made a flat and absolute denial that Leko had been beaten last night. He also denied that Leko had been kidnapped, or that he had been picked up by a fake summons from the district attorney's office.

"We talked to Leko last night for several hours," Mr. Colwell said. "A trooper went to the farm at Clintonville where he was working and asked him to come to Kingston. He came to Kingston voluntarily and was questioned there for several hours. I was there and nobody laid a hand on him. There's absolutely nothing to the story that he was beaten."

County authorities were considerably aroused over Leko's story of the beating and third-degree grilling to which he claims he was subjected, despite his protestations of innocence. Asked what his stand on the matter was, District Attorney Schwartz said:

"I am going to make a rigorous and thorough investigation to find out just what there is to Leko's story. If, after my examination, I believe it is true, I will either turn the matter over to the attorney general's office, or perhaps to Ulster county, if it develops that something did happen in Ulster county."

Leko didn't tell exactly who administered the beating, other than that it was state troopers. He said there were troopers in the cellar of the Kingston jail where he was questioned; that there was a "sheriff" there; that there was a one-armed man in plain clothes there, and other plain clothes men; and that about midnight a Poughkeepsie man "came in with two other guys."

Sheriff Cookingham had nothing to say to the story, although he did admit that he had Dr. Moffit make an examination of Leko, and that Leko had been ordered to Vassar hospital for X-ray examinations.

CHILDREN'S PLAY TO BE BROADCAST JAN. 11

The Mothers' Association of St. Ursula received word today that a special radio broadcast from the play "Sara Crew" will be given by the Clara Tree Major Children's Theatre over Station WOR, Bamberger Broadcasting Service, Newark, New Jersey, on Wednesday, January 11, at 1 p. m. The broadcast will include a synopsis of the story and a scene from the play enacted by the same company of adult professional players who will present "Sara Crew" at the Broadway Theatre in Kingston on Friday afternoon, January 20, at 4 o'clock.

Brooklyn Man Arrested. Irving H. Lowenstein of Brooklyn was arrested on Monday afternoon on a charge of parking his car in front of a fire hydrant on Wall street. He furnished $5 cash bail for his appearance later in police court.

Marine Engineers Meeting. There will be a regular meeting of the Marine Engineers, Local No. 57, tonight at 8 o'clock in Weber's Hall, lower Broadway. All members are urged to attend as important business will be transacted.

Executive Inquiry Into Education Bill Ordered by Lehman

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10 (AP).—In an unprecedented executive inquiry into the cost items that go to make up New York state's huge education bill, Governor Lehman has asked the powerful state board of regents to meet with him and legislative leaders tomorrow for a discussion of what the state shall spend during the year for education.

New York state last year spent $117,598,632.75 for all education purposes, the expenditures being under the control of the twelve regents whose authority extends into all fields of education and into the professions as well.

Governor Lehman proposes to find out for himself, in connection with his efforts to make substantial state budget reductions, where the education bill can be trimmed.

He announced last night that he had hoped the procedure—unprecedented so far as state records reveal—of requesting the regents to come to the governor's office to discuss with him the cost of the work under their supervision.

"I am going into the conference with a perfectly open mind," he said. The board of regents is headed by Chester S. Lord, chancellor of the University of the State of New York, which is the supervisory and examining organization through which the regents work. Through the university the regents supervise all public schools, libraries, museums and other educational institutions.

Five In Family Die In Baltimore Fire

Baltimore, Jan. 10 (AP).—Trapped by flames that swept through a three-story brick dwelling, five members of a family lost their lives here early today.

The dead are: Cecil Hewitt, 53 years old. Mrs. Maude Hewitt, 45, his wife. Cecil, Jr., 20, his son. Evelyn, 14, his daughter. Corinda Bowen, 25, Mrs. Hewitt's sister.

A boarder at the Hewitt home, Miss Nettie Young, 50, jumped from a second story window and was taken to a hospital. One leg was broken.

The fire broke out on the first floor and crept up the stairway, apparently shutting off escape from the sleeping inmates of the house.

All apparently had awakened but had failed to reach safety. Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt, Cecil and Miss Bowen were discovered by firemen huddled together on the floor of the front, third floor bedroom. They appeared to have tried to get to the window before they were suffocated.

Evelyn's body was found on the floor on the second story bedroom. She was the only one of the five whose body was badly burned.

Firemen expressed the opinion that all died of suffocation.

Report Uprisings Have Collapsed

Madrid, Jan. 10 (AP).—An official report indicated today that simultaneously extremist uprisings throughout Spain against the Republican government have collapsed.

Authorities, however, were taking extra precautions in Seville, Barcelona, Cadix and Madrid to prevent the movement from spreading to railroad, mine and metallurgical workers, who thus far have had no part in the uprising.

Unofficial estimates listed 38 persons as having been killed and more than 100 wounded in the battles which began Sunday. The battles were centered mainly in attempts to take over police and army quarters in various cities and towns.

A definite check of the number slain was impossible, since many of those wounded in gun battles were taken to their homes, where some presumably died and relatives, fearing punishment, withheld the information.

Common Council Meets on Friday

A special meeting of the Common Council has been called for Friday evening at the city hall to take action on providing funds to carry on emergency work relief in Kingston. The council has been deadlocked for some time over the issuance of a $100,000 bond issue. The Republican members of the council want all of the bond issue used for wages for unemployed men, while the Democratic members desire some of the bond issue used to purchase supplies and equipment.

HEALTH BOARD MEETING HAS BEEN POSTPONED. The regular monthly meeting of the board of health that was slated for this evening has been postponed until Tuesday evening, January 17.

Treasury Receipts. Washington, Jan. 10 (AP).—Treasury receipts for January were $6,849,661.44; expenditures $4,654,164.47; balance $491,697,842.72. Custom duties for 7 days of January were $4,377,349.00.

Kingston Taxpayers' Association Held Its 1st Annual Meeting

The first annual meeting of the reorganized Kingston Taxpayers' Association was held in the city court chambers at the city hall Monday evening. Attendance was limited by the weather, but there were 31 present when President Terry called the meeting to order at 8:15.

The time and attention given to the work of the association by Mr. Terry the past year was recognized by his unanimous reelection as president for the coming year. Other officers named by the nominating committee and elected without opposition were: Edward P. Ward, vice-president; James E. Snood, financial secretary; Andrew Ferguson, recording secretary; Chauncey M. Lane, treasurer; A. J. Burns, S. C. Schultz, Elmer E. Swart, A. J. Singler, Benjamin Sustin, Joseph Neiburs, Mrs. F. D. Church, executive committee.

The secretary, Mrs. Church, read a brief report for the year, showing a present membership in the association of 283 and a balance on hand in the treasury of $297.95. She was given a vote of thanks for her complete report and her faithful work as secretary.

Budget Committee. President Terry stated that the budget committee had been unable to take up that matter as completely as had been hoped, but stated that Mr. Ward and he had attempted to make some investigation and comparisons of this year's budget and that of last year. Mr. Terry made some comparisons of the budget and assessment in 1910 and that of this year. He showed that the assessment had practically doubled in that time and that this year the Board of Public Works is asking within about $75,000 of the total budget in 1910. The population since 1910 had increased only about 4,000.

Later Mr. Ward made some comments on certain budget items, stating that while totals were small in some cases there were specific items that were large and he felt that some explanation of these increases might be desirable. During his talk he referred to recent work on Wall street in cutting out the top paving for some distance back from the curb, done at the worst time of the year for such work and under disadvantageous conditions. He also commented on the fact that during this work, for two or three days at least, one of the city's trucks stood idle a good share of the time, while the engine running while at this very time the truck could have been used to put a load or so of badly needed sand on Delaware avenue, which was in a very slippery condition. Mr. Swart commented that the engine was possibly kept running in order to keep the driver warm.

Mann's Suggestion. Ralph Mann brought up the matter of raising money for work relief, referring to the controversy that has arisen in the Common Council over methods of raising money for this purpose. He stated that it was the most important matter that had come up in the Common Council, that he was around among the people and knew how bad conditions were in many homes and that the people must be fed even if now and then there is a case where relief work is given where it is not deserved. He moved that the association go on record as asking the Common Council to act at once to help the needy of the city.

Mr. Mann's motion furnished the topic for a general discussion of the matter. It was seconded by S. C. Schultz, who referred to one instance of a man who had been engaged in helping cut down trees near his place and who told him that he had had but three days work since last May. Elmer E. Swart expressed the opinion that the association should take no action in the matter—that it was a political problem and "whichever side the association takes will be the wrong one."

President Terry called for a standing vote and 15 stood in favor of the resolution, 17 present not voting. On a second call, for those opposed to rise, five stood up, the others not voting, and the motion was declared adopted.

T. J. Comerford held that it was a "foolish thing" that the only question was, "Does this association want to go on record as assisting the mayor?"

Mr. Terry expressed the opinion that neither the mayor nor the Common Council should spend unlimited sums of the people's money without a vote of the people themselves. He quoted a section of the city charter providing for special elections to decide on questions of issuing bonds, adding that the "state cannot issue bonds without a vote of the people," and he thought the same should be true of the city.

Mr. Comerford held that these were not normal times, that 2,000 honest men are out of work, that a real emergency exists, that "we must trust somebody," and that if necessary the provisions of the charter must be set aside.

Most of the prolonged discussions of the meeting, which lasted until after 10 o'clock, centered about the questions of work relief and home relief, and many alleged abuses.

Too Much Relief. Mrs. Bregman charged that many were getting relief who were not entitled to it; also that there were too many people drawing salaries for carrying on the work. In her opinion both bureaus should be abolished and people who could not

Two Brooklyn men, Evangelos Shaperda, 30, of 30 Ralph street, and Roman Nadolony, 30, of 25v Oakland street, were brought to the Ulster county jail Monday and later arraigned before Justice Theron E. Townsend of Shandaken, charged with violation of the conservation law. The judge fined the two $27.50.

Shaperda and Nadolony, who claim they are the victims of too good intentions, were on their way home to Brooklyn, when near Phoenixia they saw a doe deer lying along the roadside. The deer had been injured in the hindquarters in some way and was helpless. They picked up the animal and put it in the rear of their sedan and continued on their way. The men claimed that they made inquiries as to where they could find a game warden.

Meanwhile Fire Ranger Hillison of Phoenixia had heard of the occurrence and notified the sheriff's office in Kingston. Deputies Vredenburg and McCullough and Trooper Coons went out to investigate the matter and arrested the men on the Plank Road as they were approaching the Washington avenue viaduct.

Sheriff Saxe, after consulting with Game Warden Castle and Dr. Philip Foley, veterinarian, had the deer taken to Forsyth Park, where it was placed in one of the runs.

Democrats Fail To Agree on Report

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP).—A wide breach between senate and house Democrats on the form a prohibition repeal resolution should take today threatened to kill off any chances of congressional approval this session.

Speaker Garner who holds the whip hand, was outspoken in his criticism of the proposal reported to the senate yesterday which provides protection for dry states, gives congress power to ban the saloon and calls for ratification by state legislatures.

He asserted it did not conform to the Democratic platform and told newspapermen he would not allow it to be taken up in the house under suspension of rules, as was done the first day of congress when an outright repeal resolution was beaten by six votes.

Senate Democrats, on the other hand, apparently have decided to accept the resolution approved yesterday by the judiciary committee and not press for outright repeal as their platform calls for. The chief opponents of prohibition in both parties plan to seek elimination of the saloon clause, but most of them also have indicated that if they fail they will vote for the measure as drafted. Its passage in the senate has been forecast by many.

First Snow Storm of 1933 Finds Number of Unemployed Men Looking for Work on Snow Removal—Snow Plows Worked All Night.

This morning the emergency work relief office on East O'Reilly street was besieged by about 300 unemployed men looking for work on snow removal. One hundred of the men were placed at work on the city streets by the committee.

The snow plows were taken out about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and set to work clearing the streets. The plows worked all night and as a result practically all of the streets were open to traffic this morning.

Out in the county the Ulster county highway department got its snow plows out at noon clearing the highways of snow that had fallen.

Before the storm ceased about 4 inches of snow had fallen in Kingston.

Promise Interesting Lecture Course

The lecture course on Current Events to be given beginning Thursday afternoon of this week at the Y. W. C. A. under the auspices of the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Young Married Women's Club of the Y. W., promises to be unusually interesting and valuable. A. W. Risley, the lecturer, is Professor of History at State College for Teachers at Albany, New York, and has spent over a year studying the conditions at present delivering a similar lecture course in Albany and Schenectady before prominent women's clubs, and his address is sure to be most enlightening on present day world conditions. The course will be given on the second Thursday afternoon in January, February and March at 3:30 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. gym.

Hadassah Meeting. Following a very interesting meeting of the Hadassah Chapter of Hadassah held at the Jewish Community Center last evening, a "School Luncheon" was served and enjoyed by all. Plans were discussed with reference to the linen shower for the benefit of the Jewish orphans in Palestine, to be held in February. It was also decided to hold an Old Clothes Dance to take place in March.

Brooklyn Man Had Good Intentions

Two Brooklyn men, Evangelos Shaperda, 30, of 30 Ralph street, and Roman Nadolony, 30, of 25v Oakland street, were brought to the Ulster county jail Monday and later arraigned before Justice Theron E. Townsend of Shandaken, charged with violation of the conservation law. The judge fined the two $27.50.

Keyes Sentenced To 15 Years At Dannemora On Plea In Arson Case

Kerkhonkum Man Plea Guilty to Arson Count—Edward Rhodes Sentenced to Dannemora—Other Cases in County Court.

People of the village of Kerkhonkum may retire nights with a feeling of security for at least several years so far as fires from the hands of Charles Keyes is concerned. County Judge Frederick G. Traver on Monday afternoon sentenced Keyes to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora for a term of 15 years after Keyes had changed his former plea of not guilty to guilty to the charge of arson, third degree, as named in one of seven indictments which were found against him and charging him with having caused that number of fires in the towns of Wawarsing and Marbetown over a period of almost a year. Keyes has confessed to having caused the series of fires which have taken place during the past year in Kerkhonkum and vicinity.

Starting last spring a series of fires destroyed a large portion of the village of Kerkhonkum and there were other fires in the neighborhood which were of incendiary origin. For several months this series of fires kept the people of Kerkhonkum in terror; special watchmen were hired to patrol the village and prevent further fires but even that was not sufficient for more fires took place until Keyes was apprehended. The fires ceased. One other arsonist was made before Keyes was arrested and Keyes claimed that this man Anderson had been his assistant. Keyes was employed as a farm hand at Granite.

Seven indictments were found charging Keyes with various degrees of arson. On being arraigned he entered a plea of not guilty to each charge. Monday afternoon in court he was represented by Attorney Snyder of Albany and a plea of guilty was entered to the charge named in indictment No. 2003, an arson third degree charge.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray stated that by his plea of guilty Keyes had admitted his guilt and that he was responsible for the series of fires. He informed the court that Keyes had been convicted of rape, first degree, in Toga county. Judge Traver stated that in view of the plea and his past record, no leniency could be shown by the court and he proceeded to sentence Keyes to fifteen years at hard labor at Clinton State Prison.

Keyes apparently did not appreciate the severity of the sentence as he smiled as he returned to his seat after sentence was imposed.

Rhodes Sentenced. Edward Rhodes, 10, of Brooklyn, charged with burglary, third degree, in two indictments, was represented by Chris J. Flanagan, who had been assigned by Supreme Court Judge John T. Loughran. Mr. Flanagan stated that after investigating Rhodes' record he found there was a previous conviction of a felony standing against the young man. He said that under the law if Rhodes should plead guilty to the present charge the court would be compelled to impose a ten year state prison sentence and this he considered too severe a punishment for so young a lad. Rhodes was charged with a series of roadside gasoline station burglaries in Ulster and Esopus. Mr. Flanagan stated that he had advised his client to plead guilty to grand larceny, second degree, if the plea would be accepted by the district attorney and the court. Mr. Murray stated that due to the youth of the defendant he would be willing to accept that plea. A plea was entered. On his plea of guilty to grand larceny, Judge Traver sentenced Rhodes to a term of five years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora.

Kenneth W. Wheeler and Lefroy Essler who were indicted in connection with a burglary at the Saugerties high school last October both entered a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary, third degree. Attorney Snyder of Albany appeared for them. Wheeler stood charged with burglary and unlawful entry and carrying a dangerous weapon while Essler was indicted on a burglary and unlawful entry charge. Wheeler's sentence was postponed until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He is married. Essler until his arrest was a member of the 62nd C. A. C., stationed at Fort Totten on Long Island and at the time of the burglary was on a two day pass from his army assignment. District Attorney Murray stated to the court that his record showed that both young men were deserters from the army but this was denied by Attorney Snyder who said that there was no charge against the men so far as the army officials were concerned.

Judge Traver was stated that he would sentence Wheeler next week but proceeded to sentence Essler to an indeterminate term at Clinton State Prison at Dannemora the minimum of which shall be 2 1/2 years and the maximum 5 years.

Murray stated that he intended to move the John Lavelle matter for trial Wednesday when court reconvenes. Mr. Cook who appeared stated that he expected to be engaged in court at that time.

Alleged Dope Cases

In the case of Robert Roy Brown, one of the alleged dope ring cases, Palmer Canfield appeared and stated that he had been retained by the defendant and that he would ask for a bill of particulars in order to secure more definite information in relation to the charges. He said he desired to know which indictment the district attorney intended to move for trial and also when and

Cape Town One of Most Beautiful in All World

It may truthfully be said that few places in the world compare with the Cape Peninsula, South Africa, either in scenery, climate, verdure, mountain salubrity or association.

Table mountain, upon which Cap-town rests its shoulders while its ferruginous Table Bay, throws its ever-changing shadows upon a land of trees, flowers, oak groves, pine woods, beautiful hills and arid, hilly valleys.

In all the world there is, perhaps, no city so beautifully located as Cap-town. A nobler site for a city could hardly be imagined. It rivals Gibratar and Constantinople, Bombay and San Francisco.

Immediately behind the town, which lies along the sea, the majestic mass of Table mountain rises to a height of 3,600 feet, a steep slope capped by a long line of sheer precipices more than 1,000 feet high, and to the right and left by bold, isolated peaks. The beautiful sweep of the bay in front, the towering crags behind, and the romantic pinnacles which rise on either side makes a landscape of unusual grandeur.

Cape Town enjoys a most equable climate. There is a wealth of sunshine at all seasons of the year. The breeze blowing fresh from the sea tempers the rays of the African sun.

Red Flag in History

In the Roman empire a red flag signified war, and when displayed on the capitol was a call for the assembling of the military for active service.

A small piece of money

A small piece of money does a mighty important piece of work when you use it to buy the right laxative whenever you're constipated. That means Feen-a-mint. It's right for everyone, men, women, and children. The very fact that you chew it makes it work right—distributes it evenly, naturally, the same as food. No pills, no nasty dose to swallow. Really delicious and it's safe, non-habit-forming and economical. At all druggists.

Engineers Form and Choose Codwise Head

Excelsior Hose Elects Officers

On Monday evening, January 9, the Ulster County Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers was organized with the assistance of Frank X. Bode of the Albany Chapter. Mr. Watta of Essex county, and Mr. Zimmerman of the Ulster chapter.

G. Wallace Codwise was elected president; Henry Darrow, vice-president; Edward P. Ward, secretary-treasurer, and the following were elected directors: P. Edwin Clarke of Ellenville and James G. Guttridge for two years, and James F. Loughran and Sidney K. Clapp for one year.

The aim of this society is to promote the standards of professional engineering and to bring to the attention of the public and its officials the greater benefits which will result from the more efficient methods available through the employment of Professional Engineers upon all public projects.

It is hoped that all licensed professional engineers and land surveyors residing in Ulster county will affiliate with the Ulster County Chapter as there are many obvious reasons why concerted action upon their part will result in mutual advantages to both engineers and the people of the county.

Dr. D. B. Steinman, one of the foremost authorities on bridge design, is the president of the society.

The next meeting of the Ulster County Chapter will be held at the offices of G. Wallace Codwise in the Opera Building, Fair street, on Monday evening, January 16, at five p. m. All Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors are cordially invited to attend.

The first meeting was largely attended and many additional members are expected at the meeting next Monday evening.

PRAYER AND PRAISE

SERVICES CONTINUE

The mid-week group services for prayer and praise continue with interest among the members and friends of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church.

On Thursday evening of this week, January 12, at 7:30, services will be held in the following homes: F. W. Thompson, 256 West Chestnut street; H. Eldridge, 38 Staples street; Monroe Burger, 3 Clifton avenue; G. E. Lowe, 220 Albany avenue; Miss Marsh, Sleightburgh.

They are neighborhood gatherings and all who are not attending elsewhere are cordially invited to join the groups in their neighborhood. The theme for this week will be Solomon's Prayer, "A Prayer for Wisdom." 1 Kings 3:5-14.

At the annual meeting of Excelsior Hose Company, No. 4, held Monday evening at the engine house on Hurley avenue, E. E. Schryver, who has been secretary since the company was organized 56 years ago, was re-elected to serve for the fifty-first consecutive year.

The meeting was attended by a large number of members of the company and William B. Martin was elected foreman. The following officers were elected: Samuel B. Hull, first assistant foreman; Charles Reis, second assistant foreman; William B. Martin, president; E. E. Schryver, secretary; George L. Zelle, treasurer; trustees, W. Roe, E. E. Schryver, William B. Martin, Arthur Brown, William Van Etten, George L. Zelle, John Hourticq directors, A. Houghtaling, S. B. Hull, Jr., Roy Sickles, Morris Niles, Samuel Sattora, Frank Natoli and John Douglas; delegate to Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, W. Hoffmann; delegate to State Firemen's Association, Norwood Brown; representative to Kingston Fire Department Fund Association, E. E. Schryver; representative to Veteran Volunteer Firemen Association of Kingston, Frank Wynn, Charles Reis, William B. Martin, J. Humphrey, Arthur Brown, John Hourticq; financial investigation committee, William B. Martin, Samuel Hull, Jr., and Charles Reis; janitor, John Douglas.

FARM LEADERS RESTATE SUPPORT OF RELIEF BILL

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP).—Affirmation of organized farm unity behind the emergency relief bill was given today as Democratic sponsors sought to ward off a host of amendments and hasten a final House vote.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said major farm groups "are absolutely behind the bill."

"The heads of the bureau, the National Grange and the National Farmers Union did not testify before the agriculture committee," O'Neal said in an interview, "but that was just to save time. One attorney spoke for all."

"Efforts to make it appear we are not supporting the measure come from its enemies. We endorsed the domestic allotment principle and while that principle is retained in the bill we are for it."

Slightly more than two hours of general debate remained today as the House took up the bill again. Then amendments to the price-fixing plan may be offered. Many were expected, some from the agriculture committee itself.

BORAH AND JOHNSON CLASH ABOUT DEBTS

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP).—Two of the senate's most colorful figures—Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California—came to grips yesterday in another explosive debate, with war debts touching off the powder.

Biting words, caustic denials and ignored formalities characterized the exchange between the two foes of long-standing. The core of it was an assertion by Johnson that the Idahoan had withheld pertinent information from his colleagues when the Hoover memorandum was before the senate.

Borah first took the floor to repeat statements he made a week ago that the administration had reached an understanding with Premier Laval of France in 1931 on some form of debt reconsideration.

YOUNG COUPLE FROM GLENFORD IN AUTO MISHAP

West Shokan, Jan. 10.—Lauren Hesley of Main street was summoned to the aid of a young couple from Glenford early Sunday morning.

While riding along the roadway midway between the sawmill and the Watson Hollow Inn the automobile in which they were riding suddenly left the roadway, landing in the ditch and tearing up several heavy flat slabs of rock which had been placed across the ditch as a temporary driveway. Fortunately, neither of the occupants received serious injury. A spring in the car was broken. Mr. Hesley, who is always of an obliging nature, took the young couple to their homes in Glenford.

INDUSTRIAL HOME CHILDREN ARE INVITED

An invitation has been extended to the children of the Industrial Home to attend the Clara Tree Major Children's Theatre production of "Sara Crewe" at the Broadway Theatre, Friday afternoon, January 26, at 4 o'clock, as the guests of the Mothers' Association of St. Ursula.

Snow Welcomed by Farmers.
West Shokan, Jan. 10.—The weekend blow and squalls failed to drive down the mercury as did the wind storm of the Saturday previous. However, a snow storm was set a brewing which developed in full force Monday morning. A moderate snowfall will be generally welcomed as right now farmers are itching for another slip of sleighing in order to replenish the wood pile and perchance slip a few logs to the sawmill.

How to Get Free Trees For Forest Planting

"How can I get free trees for planting on our farm?" asks a Hampshire county boy. A lot of 4-H boys are asking this question now, so I'll answer you all right here, says J. E. Davis, Dept. of Forestry, Cornell University. "First, let me be sure you know what you are asking about."

"The State Conservation Department offers 1,000 trees to any boy or girl 12 years old or over who enrolls in a 4-H tree planting project for the first time. These trees are delivered in the spring at the proper time for planting, and will plant about one acre of ground. In return for the trees you will have the following things to do: Plant the trees carefully as shown at demonstrations; return the tree crates to the Conservation Department; protect the plantation from damage by fire and cattle; and keep a record of the project."

Plant Trees on Idle Land. "A 4-H boy in Hampshire county told me that he won't have a lazy bird in his back. As soon as he finds that a hen is a poor producer, she goes to market and the other hens buy her no more feed."

"When you think it over shouldn't the same principle apply to farm land? Don't you have idle acres that produce nothing and are, therefore, supported by the rest of the farm land? Of course, you can't and the idle land to market, but fortunately there is a way you can make it work and earn money."

"Trees, we know, will grow on your soil where growing other crops is not worth while, and an idle acre here and there makes just the place for a forest plantation."

"When you boys and girls are farm owners you want farms to do their best. You want every acre to be a money maker. It takes a long time to grow a crop of trees, so the earlier you start the better. If you enroll in a 4-H tree planting project the State Conservation Department will give you 1,000 trees free—enough trees to plant an acre of ground."

"Start now to make your idle land pay profits. Ask your County Club Agent how you can become a 4-H forester and grow up with a forest of your own."

Webster's Wisdom

If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble to dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, inspire them with knowledge, with the just fear of God, and love of fellow men, we engrave on these tablets that which will brighten through all eternity.—Daniel Webster.

Illustrated above, a set of scarf, knitted sweater in two-color chevron pattern, meant to be worn tucked into skirt.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

There are so many silhouettes, so many fabrics, and such a wide color range represented in suit collections, that this in itself proves an incentive to wear suits this coming spring.

Crinkled organdie is one of the most talked-of novelties of the season.

Printed silk hats add one more bright star to the firmament of fashions in fabric. The fabric hat needs no introduction, but printed silk for millinery is very new.

In the embroidery demand thus far, it is the organdies and batistes that have been preferred for Southern resort formal gowns.

Many daytime dresses and jacket costumes are seen with sleeves that are slender from shoulder to wrist. Treatments of this sort are observed in light-weight woolen as well as silk crepe models. They appear in dresses that have a shirtwaist quality, as well as in others that are softly tailored and introduce lingerie details in gilets or vestees and deep or shallow cuffs.

Are Your Sleeves Under Control?

New York—There seems to be no better way to provide necessary fullness than by pleats. It matters little whether the fullness is required to make the sleeve or to give the proper width to the skirt. Pleats are very widely used and in many groupings.

The side line of the skirt is straight—that is, in the rank and file of skirts for street wear. This usually means that what fullness there is, is concentrated either front or back. Stitched pleats at either side are a variation of this rather general role.

Pleats have their use in controlling sleeve fullness. A sleeve has to have some fullness in order to merit a position in the spring parade, but it must be restrained. The shoulder line is, for instance, smoother. This is because it is so often pleated, the fullness being released in the sleeve below.

In those semi-formal dresses that women find so useful, we encounter many slashed sleeves, sometimes opened to disclose the arm but gathered into a tight wristband. Sometimes the slash ends in the elbow fullness, a fitted sleeve, or cuff below.

No discussion of sleeves is complete without mention of the new detachable sleeves that button, one section onto another. It begins to look as though designers had made up their minds that all those buttons that are so decorative might just as well be useful, too. They are being put to work.

The definitely puffed sleeve has settled down to being a junior fashion. The sub-deb and her friends have usurped it. Older women feel the need of a little more restraint and are controlling the exuberance that sleeves seem determined to express.

DeValera Program For Ireland Tested By New General Election Campaign

Dublin (P).—Throwing down a gauntlet to his enemies, Eamonn de Valera has made the game of battle a test as to whether the Free State wishes to follow his program for becoming economically and politically independent.

The answer is to be given at the general election which he has called for January 24.

Congrave Seeks Peace.

Offered as an alternative is commercial peace with Britain, restoration of the Irish cattle trade and a shattering of the tariff walls that have sprung up within a year on the opposite shores of the Irish sea.

The latter is the program put forward by William T. Congrave who was forced out of the presidency by de Valera's electoral victory of last February.

The British tariff barriers, which have brought distress to Erin and driven de Valera to a hastening of his program for agricultural reform and industrialism, were put up when the fiery leader refused to pay the 1932 installments of the Irish land annuities.

De Valera Buries Annulments.

De Valera derides any idea of resuming the payments. He asserts they are as dead an issue as the oath of allegiance to the British crown, of which he made much a year ago.

What the country needs now, he says, is a return to the grain growing and home industries of an earlier day. He would have Irish farmers put 800,000 acres into wheat and almost as much more into oats and barley. Thus, he says, they can give the Free State its own breadstuffs and feed the cattle and other livestock upon whose sale the Emerald Isle had come to depend for its William T. Congrave (left) and Eamonn de Valera again are leading their parties in an election fight for control of the Irish Free State government. De Valera asks the country to endorse his program for economic and political independence. Congrave says ruin must follow a continuation of those policies.

With this economic independence, he argues, the Irish will be in better position to call for complete political independence. Furthermore there would be such prosperity and contentment in the Free State that the five Ulster counties, now comprising the dominion of Northern Ireland, would be glad to unite with the south in forming a unified and self-contained nation.

No More Neuritis

In Arms, Neck, Legs or Thighs

If you want to get rid of the agonizing pains of neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica or rheumatism, just apply Tysmol to the affected parts and see how quickly all misery will cease.

Tysmol is a powerfully penetrating absorbent, soothing and healing in its action, which goes in through the pores and quickly reaches the burning, aching nerves. Those stubborn pains in the back of the neck, about the shoulder blade, face or head, in the forearm and fingers, or extending down the thigh to the toes, will soon disappear. Cramping of the muscles will stop and you will no longer be bothered with soreness, swelling, stiffness, numbness or tenderness of the joints and ligaments.

Tysmol is not an ordinary liniment or ointment, but a scientific new emollient that is entirely different from anything you have ever used. Don't suffer any longer. Get a supply of Tysmol at any good drug store. Always on hand at Benj. W. Johnson's.

St. Mary's Rosary Society Is Host

The Rosary Society of St. Mary's Church will entertain members and their friends, on Thursday evening, January 12, at St. Mary's School Hall, commencing at eight o'clock.

A pleasing program has been arranged for the enjoyment of the guests. Music will be provided for those wishing to dance, and the committee in charge hopes for a hearty response to the invitation which is extended to all adult members of the parish—men and women—so that this event may prove to be the social success anticipated. Refreshments will be served during the evening, and no admission will be charged.

At The Theatres

Today.

Kingston: "Strange Interlude."
Eugene O'Neill's justly famous stage play of a beautiful, neurotic woman and her three lovers, their hatreds and their loves from youth to old age, are daringly translated to the talking screen in this unusual motion picture. At times the screen version is drawn out and tedious, but it is motion picture artistry from beginning to end. Many technical difficulties had to be overcome in the filming of this talkie masterpiece, for the characters speak their thoughts outwardly. Norma Shearer and Clark Gable in the leading roles are well cast and exceptionally effective, especially Miss Shearer, whose performance must class her as one of the screen's great dramatic artists. This picture is without thrills or intense action, and the plot sways toward morbidity. The adaptation, direction and effects in the picture are superb. It is a radical departure from the usual type of motion picture, and must be seen to be appreciated. This picture will blast any criticism that the motion picture industry is void of originality, intelligence, and directorial genius. Others in the splendid cast are Robert Young, Alexander Kirkland, and Ralph Morgan.

Orpheum: "Almost Married"
and "High Voltage." Ralph Bellamy and Violet Heming are the featured players in the first attraction, a melodrama of love and adventure in Europe. "High Voltage" stars William Boyd, and supporting him are Carol Lombard and Owen Moore.

Broadway: "Central Park."
A real thrill picture is this story of a boy and girl who meet in Central Park and who immediately find themselves in all kinds of difficulties. Racketeers, police hunts, gang battles, and a lion that gets loose, are only a few of the exciting moments in this talkie. Joan Blondell gives her usual interesting performance as the girl, and Wallace Ford is good as the hero of the plot. Others in the cast are Guy Kibbee and John Halliday.

Tomorrow.
Kingston: Same.
Orpheum: "Her Majesty Love." Marilyn Miller, who won world acclaim on her dancing feet, is at her best in this musical comedy attraction that gives her ample opportunity to use her talents. Ben Lyon is in the supporting cast.

Broadway: "Uptown New York."
From the pen of Vina Delmar comes this human, dramatic story of a typical, hard working New Yorker who marries a girl with a none too good a past. There are moments of superlative comedy in this fast paced talkie, and the direction and acting is so well done that the show has a completely realistic touch throughout. Jack Oakie, Shirley Grey and Leon Waycoff are principals in the cast.

The witness was obviously a rustic and was quite new to the ways of the court room. So the judge directed Judge—Speak directly to the jury, the men sitting over to your left in the benches.

Witness (turning to the jury, bowing clumsily)—Good morning, gentlemen.

Two Scotchmen were arrested for being drunk and disorderly. When they were brought into court the judge asked the officer where the third man was.

Officer—Your Honor, there was no third man.

Judge—There must have been, who bought the liquors?

It sometimes happens that the careful man saves money and then loses it to somebody who invests it and gets rich.

The manager of the Brushville building firm stared at the wrecked building.

Manager (to foreman)—What in the world happened?

Foreman (scratching his head)—As soon as we began to take the scaffolding away the whole place collapsed.

Manager—You idiot! Didn't I tell you not to touch the scaffolding until the wallpaper was up?

Asked in Sunday School if he wouldn't like to be an angel, a little boy replied: "No, I would rather be an airplane pilot or a baseball pitcher."

A very small boy with a very large bundle of papers under his arm was trudging down the street.

Kindly Gentleman—Don't all those papers tell you, my boy?

The Boy—Now, I don't read them.

A bit of wisdom: "A man pays dearly for all the satisfaction gained by going to law."

Jerry—Good Heavens! Who gave you that black eye?

Friend—A bridegroom for kissing the bride after the ceremony.

Jerry—But surely he didn't object to that ancient custom?

Friend—No—but it was two years after the ceremony.

Most of the habits men acquire are like whiskers. They just grow on them.

Speak Kindly

The hard word hurts; why utter it? A grumble pains; why mutter it? Your heart is kind; why shutter it? The world is sad enough.

The soft word helps; just say it. A hand-grip cheers; don't delay it. A kindness shown; just repay it. And help the world along.

Pompous Physician (to man plastering a defective wall)—The trowel covers up a lot of mistakes—what?

Workman—Yes, doctor—and so does the spade.

An exchange asks: "Should a mother of 40 get married again?" Our answer would be: "Not unless she wishes to be like the old woman that lived in a shoe."

Teacher—Come now, Tommy, will you point out Australia to the class?

Tommy did.

Teacher—Who discovered Australia, Judith?

Judith—Tommy did.

DR. WYLLIE TO SPEAK
IN KINGSTON ON JAN. 11

Early childhood is the golden age for developing the mental attitudes which go to make up wholesome personality, according to Dr. Margaret Wyllie, child guidance specialist from the New York State College of Home Economics. Dr. Wyllie will speak at Kingston on January 11, on the subject of "Wholesome Personality in Childhood." The meeting will be held in the Supervisors' room at the court house, Kingston, beginning at 2 p. m.

The bases are laid in early childhood for physical, mental, and social development. Dr. Wyllie says, parents should appreciate the importance of seeking suitable ways of guiding the child from the time when he begins to form his first habits. Undesirable habits and mental attitudes learned in childhood are the foundation for personality difficulty and social adjustment in later life.

Both physical and mental hygiene enter into this aspect of child guidance. Some important phases of both problems will be discussed by Dr. Wyllie.

"Puffy!" sounds the taxi outside Puffy's door.

"Okay!" says our hero. "It's fifteen to four."

"I'm due at the airport in five minutes flat."

"Okay!" says the chauffeur. "Hang on to your hat."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 10. (AP).—Traders from the stock market rather logy, but more inclined to advance than to decline today.

Rails again were selected by the bulls as their favorite vehicle, and several issues pushed up fractionally to a point. Steels also acted well, as did tobacco.

A better tone in wheat was helpful to shares, and traders stressed the marked improvement in bonds in recent sessions as a hopeful sign.

Issues getting up about 1/4 to 1 1/2 points included Union Pacific, Penn-

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Jan. 10.—The M. E. Church choir rehearsal will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Clark on Broadway at 7:30 Thursday evening.

Society Notes

Notes

Because of the lecture to be given by Prof. A. W. Rieley at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday afternoon of this week, Societas held no meeting on Monday afternoon. Next Monday the program will be musical and the club will meet with Mrs. Milson.

Andrews-DeLaca

Sunday afternoon at St. Coleman's Church, East Kingston, Miss Rose DeLaca of that place and Frank J. Andrews of 13 Cordia street, Kingston, were united in marriage by the Rev. Daniel Fant. Attendants were Michael Andrews, brother of the bridegroom as bestman and Miss Theresa Park of 135 Delaware avenue as bridesmaid. Flower girls were Margaret O'Brien and Catherine Ramundo. John DeLaca, brother of the bride, gave her away. After the church ceremony there was a reception at White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue following which the happy couple left on a honeymoon to the south. Upon returning they will reside at 161 Foxhall avenue. Mr. Andrews is a prominent business man of the city, conducting a confectionery store at 264 Broadway. Among old town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. James Cervino, Miss Anna Cervino and Anthony Cervino of Jersey City; Rosario Gabriel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gabriel and Miss Frances Gabriel, all of Athens.

Twentieth Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club met on Monday afternoon at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Inasmuch as Mrs. Fraser of the club has been chosen to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Gagnon as treasurer of the Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. N. H. Fuller was appointed in her place to represent the Twentieth Century Club at the executive committee meetings of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs. Announcement was made of the coming annual luncheon of the Kingston Federation to be held on February 4 at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Announcement was also made of the lecture on Thursday afternoon of this week at 8:30 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. by Prof. A. W. Rieley. The club roll call was "Current Events." Miss Hasbrouck had the paper for the afternoon on "Lights and Shadows of Mexico," in which she spoke historically of the country, told clearly of the recent trouble between church and state, now clearing up. She also devoted some time to an account of the splendid services rendered both Mexico and the United States. On January 23 the club will meet again at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Monday Club

The Monday Club held a regular meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. William Lawton, on Crown street. A report of Federation of Women's Clubs activities was given by Mrs. Reed. Included in which was the information relative to the coming Federation luncheon. This annual luncheon will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Saturday, February 11. Mrs. Charles G. Moore, president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs will be the guest speaker of the afternoon, and the Atherton Club will provide the entertainment for the luncheon by giving a one-act play. All those wishing to attend the luncheon are asked to make reservation by the last of January.

In connection with the report of the treasurer, Mrs. William M. Davis, especially regarding the recent lecture course given by Dr. Fite, it was stated that the high school students who were given the privilege of attending the lectures at special student rates, found the lectures very valuable as attested by the teachers in the history department. All of which was gratifying to the Monday Club. The next meeting of the Monday Club will be on January 23, when Mrs. Winifred D. Hubbard and Mrs. Sidney R. Clapp will present Dr. Hoffman's professor at New Brunswick Theological Seminary, who lectured here last year, who will speak on "Holland Reclaims the Territory of the Twelfth Province from the Sea." Members of the Monday Club may each invite the associate members and two other guests to this lecture. Under the study subject of the club, "The World of Today," Mrs. Charles De La Vergne read several most interesting articles, pro and con on "Technocracy" provoking considerable discussion.

About the Folks

Raymond Albrecht was removed from 66 Ann street to the Kingston Hospital in the ambulance on Monday evening.

Miss Mickey Millett of 79 German street has recovered after being ill at her home under the care of Dr. M. Silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Van Kleef of the Van Kleef Motor Company are in New York city attending the auto show.

Under Sheriff J. W. Foster has been at home since Friday suffering from an attack of grip. He was reported better today and able to be up.

Mrs. F. L. Eastman was called to Washington recently by the serious illness of her mother and not her father as stated in Monday evening's issue of The Freeman.

Holy Name League

Opens Second Half

The second half of St. Mary's Holy Name Basketball League will get under way tonight in the school hall. Every player is asked to be on the floor and ready to play when time for his game comes. Following is the schedule for tonight:

7:15 o'clock—Visitation vs. Ascension.

8:15 o'clock—Celtics vs. Athletics.

THE JOINERS

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

There will be a regular meeting of Vanderlyn Council, No. 41, D. of A., tonight at 8 o'clock at 14 Henry street. At this time the deputy, Slater Kurtz, of Highland, will be present and install the newly elected officers.

There will be a regular communication of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., at the lodge rooms, 230 Wall street, tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The Entered Apprentice Degree will be conferred. The Master desires a large attendance.

At the regular meeting of Kingston Lodge, No. 970, Loyal Order of Moose, to be held this evening, a large class of candidates will be initiated. Members of the degree team will be present in full regalia. After the business session a chicken supper will be served.

FOUR INCHES OF SNOW IN NORTH RESERVOIR SECTION.

Shokan, Jan. 10.—Four inches of snow fell in the north reservoir section during the day on Monday, and at dusk it was snowing and raining intermittently. The first traffic on the north boulevard was a few yards above Crossman's Corner when a sedan, loaded off the pavement and went down the steep bank until stopped by the city's concrete and steel fence. The car remained stuck, though it required the combined efforts of one of the big J. J. Hoy trucks of Catskill and several men to get the machine back onto the road. Accidents at this point, formerly the John D. Ennis farm, are so numerous as to hardly come under the head of news, and most of them might have been avoided by more careful driving.

FEW CASES OF FLU IN SHOKAN, EVERGREENS MAY HALT GERMS

Shokan, Jan. 10.—Hermah Morris, general Department of Water Supply employe, was laid up with an attack of influenza at his home in Ashokan last week. Only a few cases of the flu have been reported in the twin villages and these are generally of a mild type. It is possible that the immense tract of evergreens, such as pine and spruce, growing on the city's reservation here has something to do with the apparent immunity of folks from this disease. As daily there are, on an average, about fifty persons on this side of the reservoir going to and from Kingston—where the flu is prevalent at this time—there must be some factor operating here that helps local residents to repel the germs.

FLATBUSH

Flatbush, Jan. 10.—A Depression Price Supper will be held at the Flatbush Reformed Church hall Thursday evening. Supper served at 6 p. m.

The Little Choral Society will meet on Saturday, January 14, at 7:30 p. m. in the Flatbush Reformed Church. A big surprise is being planned. The community is invited.

School Teacher Not Superstitious

Shokan, Jan. 10.—Who says that two dollar bills are unlucky to have and to hold? There is a school teacher in the neighboring town of Woodstock who is glad to get them. He calls white elephants and even asks those who deal with her to save them for her. Not that any one will refuse a two-spot in these times, however; they simply prefer to have it in ones or "chicken feed."

Local Death Record

Mrs. George L. Kerbert died at her home in Saugerties on Saturday in her thirty-fifth year. Besides her husband she is survived by a son, John; a stepson, George; two brothers, John Fitzgerald of Buffalo and William Fitzgerald of New York, and a stepmother, Mrs. Josephine Fitzgerald. Funeral services were held today with interment in St. Mary's cemetery at Saugerties.

New Paltz, Jan. 10.—Harold Atkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deyo Atkins, died Friday night, January 6, at his home in Butternut. He was 32 years old and had been a lifelong resident in this vicinity. He had been ill for a long time. Besides his parents he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Violet Ashton Atkins, two sisters, Mrs. James DeFew and Mrs. Cecil DeFew, of New Paltz. The funeral was held from his home this afternoon, the Rev. Gerrit Willschlegel, pastor of the Reformed Church, officiating. Burial took place in New Paltz cemetery.

Milton, Jan. 10.—Miss Suse Constant, a daughter of John Constant of Milton died Tuesday of last week in Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie. She lived in Milton when a girl, after her family moved here from Fishkill, but has made her home in Poughkeepsie for several years. Miss Constant is survived by her father, John Constant of Milton, and three sisters, Mrs. Irene Scott and Mrs. Sadie Martin of Milton and Mrs. Amanda Vetter of Poughkeepsie. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon in Poughkeepsie. The interment took place in the Poughkeepsie Rural Cemetery, the bearers being young men from Milton.

West Shokan, Jan. 10.—The funeral of Benjamin Bush, held Saturday afternoon, January 7, in the North Marlboro Reformed Church, was attended by a delegation of the members of Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge, headed by Past District Deputy Virgil C. Gordon. In the absence of Noble Grand Clifford B. Donohue, who was ill all week at his home in Kingston. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Chilton, combined pastor of the Hurley and North Marlboro Churches. At the close of the service the I. O. O. F. burial ritual was read by Mr. Gordon as Noble Grand, and Past Grand Elwyn Davis as acting chaplain in the absence of Past District Deputy Arthur E. Trowbridge, who was likewise confined to his home with grip. Mr. Bush had been a member of Shokan Lodge for over 40 years. He was likewise a member of the Jr. O. U. A. N. Council, No. 164, of which a delegation was present and conducted their very impressive burial ritual. The interment was in the Stone Ridge Fair View cemetery beside his devoted wife, who died in 1930.

Andrew M. Dykes of 201 O'Neil street, died Monday at noon after a long illness. Born at New Mills, Scotland, Mr. Dykes came to this country about 25 years ago, 29 of which he has spent in Kingston. During his residence here he was a lace weaver employed at the U. S. Lace Curtains Mills. He is survived by his wife their two children, Janet and Andrew, all of this city. His mother, Mrs. Andrew Dykes, Sr., and his sister, Miss Jean Dykes, are living in Scotland. He also leaves three brothers, Alexander of Paterson and Robert and John of Clifton, N. J.

Mr. Dykes was serving as president of the Amalgamated Lace Weavers Branch No. 8, at the time of his death. He was also a member of Roundout Lodge No. 248, F. and A. M. and Mt. Herib Chapter No. 75, R. M. and the Loyal Order of Moose. A memorial service has been planned for Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his residence with relatives and friends being invited. His masonic brothers will be in attendance to participate in the tribute and at the interment which will be made in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Holy Name Society Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the members of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church was held Monday evening at the school hall. William B. Martin was elected president; James Higley, vice-president; John Nelson, secretary, and the Rev. Edmund Burke, treasurer and spiritual advisor. The meeting was largely attended. It was decided to hold the 7th annual card party of the men and women of the parish on Monday evening, February 20, under the auspices of the Holy Name Society. There will be a meeting next Monday, January 16, at 7:30 o'clock to make final arrangements for the card party.

REDEEMER ANNUAL MEETING ON JAN. 12.

The annual congregational meeting of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Reports showing a very successful year during 1932 in spite of the depression will be read. Three deacons and one elder will be elected. The president of the church council, George Wilson, will preside. A special service will be held Sunday morning at which time the newly elected councilmen and all of the officers of all of the organizations of the congregation will be installed. They will occupy pews reserved for them in front. The pastor will preach an appropriate sermon on the topic, "Exercising Our Gifts."

At the evening service the pastor begins a series of sermons on the interesting Old Testament prophets. The topic for Sunday evening is "The Herdman of Tekoa Thundering." The teachers and officers of the Sunday and Weekday Bible schools will hold a banquet Monday evening, January 23, at which time the Rev. Paul White, Ph.D., secretary of religious education of the United Synod of New York, will speak. He will also show movies of the Silver Bay Summer Assembly.

A Rare Sight To Behold.
Shokan, Jan. 10.—One of the thrifty farm bachelors here was showing the boys in the store a hundred dollar bill the other day. He had obtained this rare coin from a local storekeeper who wanted small stuff in exchange for the big money. For the edification of some who may have forgotten what these bills look like, it may be said that they bear the likeness of Ben Franklin on one side and a picture of Independence Hall on the reverse. The fortunate brother was not trying to put on the airs at all; he has worked hard and lived frugally for years whilst many of the other lads were blowing in their coin right and left, and folks all knew that he has plenty hale salted away. ## Holy Name Society Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the members of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church was held Monday evening at the school hall. William B. Martin was elected president; James Higley, vice-president; John Nelson, secretary, and the Rev. Edmund Burke, treasurer and spiritual advisor. The meeting was largely attended. It was decided to hold the 7th annual card party of the men and women of the parish on Monday evening, February 20, under the auspices of the Holy Name Society. There will be a meeting next Monday, January 16, at 7:30 o'clock to make final arrangements for the card party.

This annual card party is very largely attended each year by the people of the parish and the general public and handsome prizes are awarded. Pinchle, bridge and euchre will be played.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press
An Author Bold

PARSON, Utah—Dr. L. D. Pomeroy scored another point for his famous sport—golfing. After his bag had cracked a monstrous hole in an hour near here they finally reached Dr. Pomeroy with one well-aimed shot from his bow felled the animal, an arrow through its body, measured nine feet.

No Pain Bother

Seattle—Terrorized by glimpses of operating instruments, Alex Chinski, decided he didn't need an operation.

So while the doctors and nurses were out of sight, he fled from his ward, clad only in a nightgown and blanket. Two hours later, a police man gave a desperate chase and managed to seize the blanket, but Chinski got away. Later he was captured.

Shrill Ghosts

Milwaukee, Wis.—Ghosts or spirits, they're the same price, namely $1 and costs.

"It's ghosts," said residents of a flat who had heard strange noises in their attic.

"It's spirits, that's the trouble," said police who found Valentine Kruska stamping around amidst old furniture.

"It's $5 and costs," said Judge George E. Page of the district court.

Slippery Roadster

Oklahoma City—Because he has to wash oil from his cows every night before he can milk them, Bert Cedar has filed suit for an injunction against five oil companies to restrain them from polluting the North Canadian river with waste crude oil. He also asked $2,000 damages.

Mother and Son

Chicago—As Mrs. Gertrude J. Krausberger, 61, a widow, and jewelry store owner, viewed it, her duty was to the law.

"I trusted him," she said in felony court. "He worked in the store as a clerk. I began to miss things. One day I passed a pawnshop and saw in the window one of the things he had stolen."

The judge held the defendant to the grand jury. He was John Krausberger, her son.

Bigger or More Comfy?

Chicago—Either the women are going in more for comfort than they used to, or their feet are getting bigger.

A. H. Genting of Philadelphia, president of the National Shoe Retailers Association, says:

"There is a bigger shoe size trend for women noticeable in the last 25 years."

Good Shot, Chief

Emporia, Kan.—Chief of Police Roy Clay and Tom Fleming shot pigeons out of the city hall balcony. What passerby didn't pick up City Clerk E. T. Mendel retrieved. Queenie, bird dog attached to the police force, wagged her tail and a good time was enjoyed by all.

City-Gal Makes Good

Chicago—For a city bred product Mrs. Lillian Powell's Rhode Island hen isn't doing so badly. The hen laid an egg which measured eight inches at its greatest circumference.

Are Their Faces Red?

Portland, Ore.—You can't blame the men of Engine Company No. 21 for blushing a bit.

Fire that broke out in the house next door to their station and jumped to an adjoining residence did damage estimated at $2,500 before the flames were brought under control.

4-H FORESTERS PLANT

1,000,000 TREES IN 1932

In 1932 there were 1,840 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H forestry projects in New York. Of these, 1,273 were first year members planting a total of 1,273,000 trees. Many other 4-H foresters purchased trees to add to their plantations and their orders brought the total 4-H tree planting to over 1,800,000 trees for 1932. This is about 30 per cent above last year's record and is more than the total number of trees planted in some states.

Literary Meeting

The annual meeting of the Library Association will be held in the Library Wednesday evening, January 11, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Human "Leather"

In the Albert Memorial exhibition in Buxton, England, there is a copy of Togo's constitution of 1930, of which the binding, according to an affidavit on the fly-leaf, is part of the skin of George Outmore, who was executed at Devon on March 23, 1930.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Fred Ware of the Omaha World Herald not only wants to know what we mean by the "middle west," but how, in effect, his associates in that territory "get that way" in voting, as they did, that baseball suffered somewhat less than any other sport during 1932.

He should know, if he doesn't already, that we generally consider the Six Six and Missouri Valley groups in the same combination with the Big Ten, when the Middle West is being classified for collegiate purposes; and that the states covered by these conferences also apply to the general sports situation for territorial purposes as a whole.

We admit it may seem a trifle confusing to the inhabitants, but as to the views expressed, we must refer Fred Ware to his associates.

Middle Western?
"I have always regarded myself as a middle westerner," he writes. "I have always regarded Iowa, Iowa State, Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Kansas State and Yankton College as mid-western institutions."

And so do we, but here our Nebraska contemporary dissents from the generally accepted theory that the Big Ten, in other words the territory west of the Alleghenies and east of the Mississippi river, also can be included in the "Middle West." He says, "Michigan is not the leader in midwestern football. Nebraska is. Michigan is the leader in territory several minutes of longitude eastward."

True enough, but are we to designate the Illinois-Ohio-Indiana-Michigan-Wisconsin-Minnesota group of states as merely "several minutes of longitude eastward?" If they are to be so abruptly cast from the middle western area, no doubt they would like to have a meeting and vote on the proposition before it is moved, seconded or adopted. Maybe they are "Middle Eastern" at heart, anyway.

Secession.
Speaking of confusing sectional situations in sport, take a peek at the new layout below the Mason-Dixon line, where the old Southern Conference has just been split into two distinct sections to make for more widely and satisfactory operations.

The aims and purposes are clear enough but not the designations. The group which withdrew from the old lineup comprises the colleges in Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Kentucky, under the name of "South-eastern Conference." The remaining colleges, located in the Carolinas, Virginia and Maryland, retain the designation of "Southern Conference."

The logical designation here would be exactly the reverse, since it is obvious that the seaboard combination is more entitled to a "Southeastern" label than the others. It may be straightened out after they get working conditions and arrangements settled, but for the time being our geographical ideas are considerably disturbed.

BILLIARDS

The City Championship.

Nick Kaslich, one of Kingston's leading billiard figures, has announced he will sponsor the second open tournament for the pocket billiard championship of the city in conjunction with representatives of the Koenig A. C., starting January 23 or 24.

Any billiard player in the city or surrounding communities may enter the tournament. January 21 is the date set for closing of the entry list. One may register either at the Koenig A. C. on Wall street or at the Koenig A. C. on lower Hasbrouck avenue. Tournament games will be played at both places on alternate nights.

Players expected to enter in the immediate future are Stanley Wojcik, Charles Boeve, "Pie" Murphy, Fred Plathaber, John Mayone, Steve Kaslich, Andy Cherina and Julius Teller, the present city champion.

Attractive cash prizes will be awarded the top flight players. Games will be played at 100 balls and the three scratch rule will be observed.

Downtown Tourney.

The tournament game between the Koenig A. C. and the North Rondout Social Club at the former parlor Monday night was won by Jimmy Gorman playing on his home table against "Rookie" Prusack, 100-41.

As a result of Gorman's victory, the Koenig Club now leads in the tourney by the margin of 6-2.

Preliminary to the feature Willie Komosa defeated "Squire" Squires 25-14.

Tonight at the North Rondout Social Club the tournament continues with a match between Leo Landaway of that parlor and John Swift of the Koenig Club. There will be a preliminary.

Mayone Victorious.

In the Kaslich pocket billiard tournament Monday night, Johnny Mayone defeated Bob East of Stone Ridge, 100-88, in a close game that saw both players execute some spectacular break shots. Mayone's best run was 14. East's 13. Teller meets Johnny Schrader.

H. Gorman Stars.

In the basketball game between the Comforter Girls and Holy Cross Orie played recently at Comforter Hall and won by the visiting team 24-7. Miss H. Gorman, of the victors, Holy Cross quintet, was the leading scorer. She made 12 points for her team. Miss M. Phinney made 9 and Miss A. Pratt 2. Miss Pardee made 4 for the Comforters and Miss Finkel 2.

Hebrews Defeat Judacan Stars

The Hebrew-Americans had no difficulty in overwhelming the Judacan All Stars, 33-15, at the Jewish Community Center Monday night in a basketball contest that featured M. Basch and O. Basch of the winning team as the leading point makers. They tallied 10 apiece. Y. Alcon made 4 for the Judacans.

Wednesday night at the Downtown Community Center, the Hebrew-Americans will meet the Trinity M. E. team of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday School League.

Last night's scores:

Hebrew-Americans	F.G.	P.P.	T.P.

Total	6	7

Score at end of first half—12-6. Hebrew-Americans leading. Referee, Lewis; timekeeper, Alcon; time of halves, 20 minutes.

Important S. S. League Meeting

Previous to the opening of tonight's program of Sunday School Basketball League games at the Y. M. C. A., there will be a special and very important meeting of team representatives. Each quintet is urged to have a spokesman at the session, which will open at 8 o'clock sharp.

KENTUCKY'S "WONDER TEAM" HOPES TO BREAK TITLE Jinx

Above are three mainstays of the Kentucky basketball team that for two straight seasons has been labeled by critics the greatest in the South, only to falter with the title in its grasp. Left to right, Forrest Sale, Darrell Darby and Ellis Johnson.

CARDS BOUND FOR COMEBACK WITH NEW INFELD-STREET

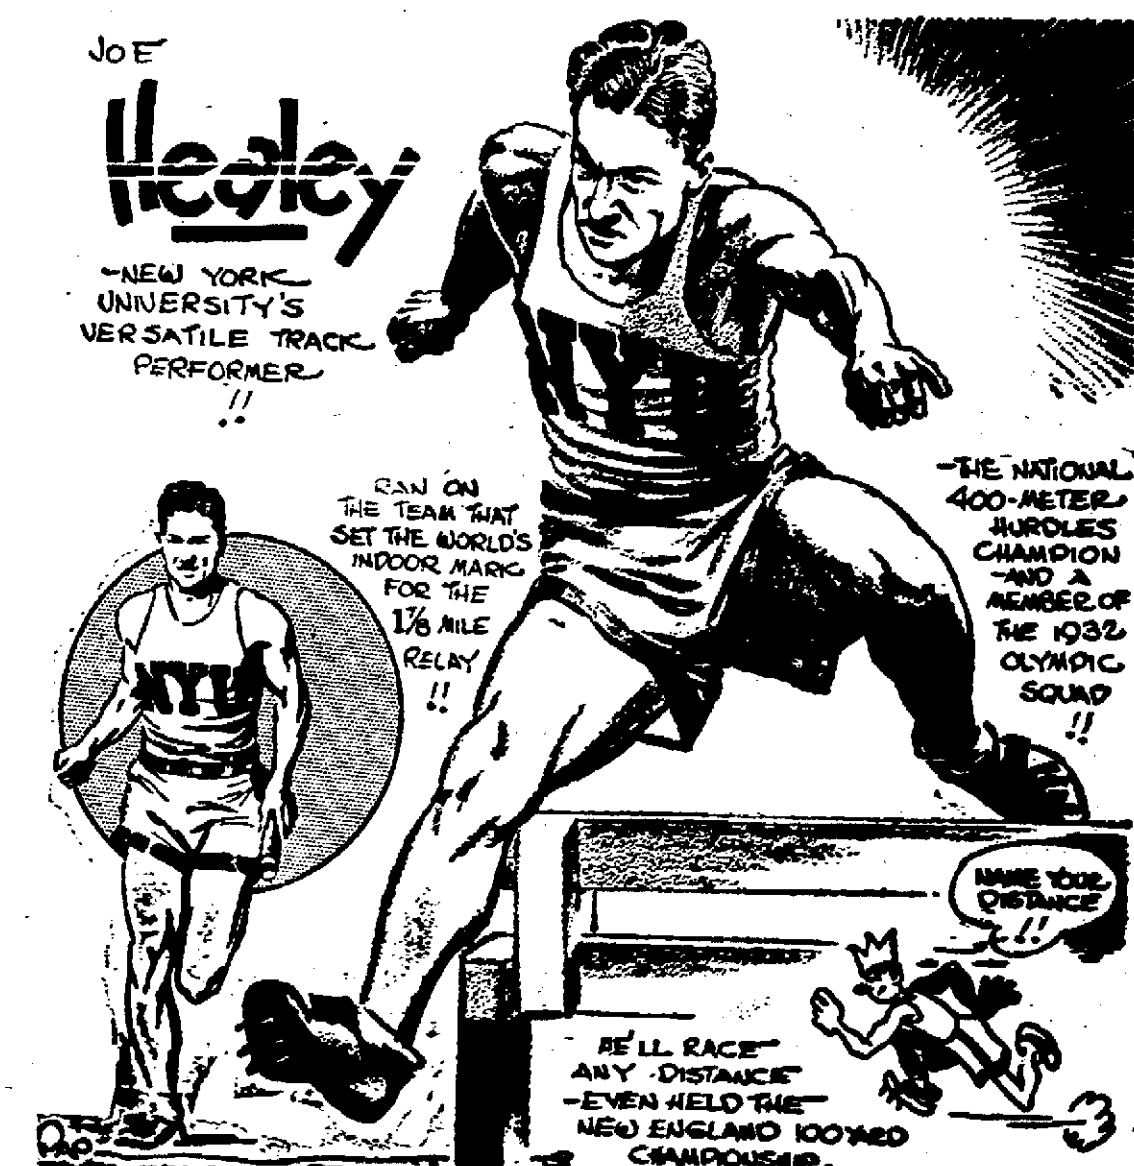

With Jim Bottomley off to Cincinnati and Charley Gilbert's recovery from a hunting wound doubtful, Manager Gabby Street is preparing to spring a brand new infield combination on the Cardinals' National League rivals. The above quartet doesn't look half bad, eh?

"CHICKEN" SMITH STARS AS "Y" SENIORS FALL

Although the Y. M. C. A. Seniors fell before the attack of the Comforter Seniors, 41-44, Saturday night at Comforter Hall, "Chicken" Smith, fleshy forward of the losing team, starred as the individual point-maker by caging the ball for 18 markers. Scores were made, as follows: Comforters—Rossa 12, Williams 10, Van Bramer 13, Whitmore 4, Webber 4, total 44. "Y" Seniors—Smith 18, Dan Joyce 8, H. Follette 4, Post 7, Houghtaling 4, total 41. At half time the Y. M. C. A. led 20-18. Fouls committed: Comforters 11, "Y" 6. Referee, Bliss; scorer, J. Flowers.

O. L. Tucker of Greensboro, N. C., presented half a ham to a man charged with stealing the entire Tucker meat supply.

Small Field for Po'keepsie Race

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—One of the smallest fields in years probably will face the starter's gun in the annual Poughkeepsie regatta this year, according to the Intercollegiate Rowing Association, which decides to hold the annual classic.

Only two schools, Columbia and California, are definitely committed to participation in the 1933 regatta, although Navy "very probably" will be represented.

Cornell, Syracuse and Penn are all undecided at present, although definite announcement, one way or another, may come at the annual meeting of the association here Thursday.

Curtailment of all athletic activities except basketball and football are to be considered by Cornell authorities tonight and financial conditions may force abandonment of intercollegiate rowing competition for the year. Penn, which sent only a varsity crew to Poughkeepsie last year, and Syracuse likewise may decide, for reasons of economy, to pass up the famous regatta this year.

Maxwell Stevenson of Columbia, chairman of the board of stewards, still feels sure the regatta will be held although admitting the possibility that the date may have to be advanced and the distance of the varsity and junior varsity races shortened.

Choclateers Play Z. N. P. Tonight

Phil Kelly's Choclateers will get their second chance against the Z. N. P. quintet tonight at 8:30 o'clock in White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue, in a basketball contest that is expected to pack the hall and present thrills galore to those who attend. The Polish boys defeated the Choclateers in a close and exciting game earlier this season and contemplate on repeating. It is the contention of the Kellys that they can outscore the Z. N. P.'s now and hope to do it by a wide margin tonight. Both teams will use their regular lineups.

In the preliminary game, slated for 7:30, the Fullers and Winkly Girls will clash. The Fullers hope to avenge a previous defeat in tonight's battle.

There will be dancing after the games.

40 THREE-YEAR OLDS FOR THE HAMBLETONIAN.

Goshen, N. Y., Jan. 10 (AP).—Forty three-year olds, the crack trotters of light harness horse racing, are still eligible for the rich Hambletonian as the result of the posting of fees of $250 each by their owners on January 1.

The number, six more than last year, will be further reduced before post time when the owners will be required to deposit a starting fee of $500 the day before the race. The date and location of the sport's richest event will be announced the latter part of this month, according to Will Gahagan, secretary of the grand circuit. It was renewed over the Goshen mile track in 1931 and 1932.

BRIDGE CITY BOXING SHOW FOR CHARITY.

Plans for this week's boxing program were called off by Matchmaker Al Irby of the Bridge City A. A., Poughkeepsie, to make room for a charity show to be staged for the Poughkeepsie Emergency Work Bureau Tuesday night, January 17, at Columbus Institute, Washington street, Poughkeepsie. It is the second straight year that the club has staged a carnival for the Bureau. Last year it turned over more than $500 to the fund. Just what the card will be Irby was not yet certain this morning. He has lined up some of the best boys in the Federation and will list the pairings later in the week.

Kingston Taxpayers'
Association Meeting

may rent and needed help should go to the city home.

Mrs. Church held that under present conditions there was "crucifying the small taxpayer." She did not believe in letting people starve; those who really needed help and were entitled to it should receive aid, but "something must be done for the little fellow who pays taxes." She said that people were coming to Kingston because it is "the easiest town along the Hudson river to get relief."

G. W. Anderson said that he agreed with the statements that there were cases of those who were unworried receiving relief and reported on case where the man of the family was receiving $21 a week and his wife was receiving from $12 to $15 a week and yet they were securing their coal from the relief committee. He also referred to current reports that in some cases so much was given out, especially in the line of canned goods, that the surplus was traded for cash.

Mr. Terry suggested that it would be a good thing if the names of those getting orders from the Welfare Board, with the amount of such orders, were made public.

Several of the members agreed that it was the duty of those who knew of any receiving relief who were not entitled to it to report the matter, either to the Welfare Board or to the association's committee on welfare. There was also criticism of the failure of relief investigators to ask neighbors and others who might know about conditions in families where relief was asked for, instead of going directly to the people concerned and getting their information from them.

Ralph Mann brought up the question of teacher employment in the schools and asked that the secretary of the association be instructed to secure from the superintendent of schools the names of all teachers, whether married or single, including the names of those employed in teaching night school or part time school. The president instructed the secretary to secure this information.

Elmer E. Swart, for the committee on laws and legislation, brought up the matter of the work done by Palmer Canfield, Jr., who had been retained by the association to assist and advise in the matter of drawing up and securing amendments to the city charter. The work had involved numerous meetings with the association's committee and with the Common Council and its rules committee, as well as study of the charter and correspondence. Mr. Canfield had presented no bill for his services, but it was recommended that the association pay him $100 "as part payment for the work he had done." Seconded by Mr. Comerford, who stated that he thought the amount very reasonable, the motion was passed without dissent.

Keyes Sentenced to 15
Years At Dannemora

where the crime charged was committed. He said he would ask that the case be set down for trial after next week as he would be engaged in Federal court for several days commencing Tuesday of this week. Mr. Murray stated that he would give Mr. Canfield the information sought. Robert J. Howard appears for others involved in the alleged "dope ring" charge. All are accused.

Prior to the moving of criminal cases for trial there were several arraignments under sealed indictments.

Joseph F. Brown was arraigned on a charge of abandonment of children in destitute circumstances at the town of Rosendale. He entered plea of not guilty and bail was fixed at $1,000.

Joseph Rosalmo, charged with rape, second degree, was represented by George Rusk and a plea of not guilty to the charge was entered and bail fixed at $1,500. The crime is alleged to have been committed on August 26 last. Frank Alessi, charged with the same crime on the same date was also represented by Mr. Rusk and a similar plea offered and bail fixed at $1,500.

Edward J. Demskie entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of rape, second degree, alleged to have been committed on September 5 last, was represented by Chris J. Flanagan and entered a plea of not guilty. Bail was continued.

Carmine Luzzi, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon on October 16 last, also entered a plea of not guilty. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for him and bail was fixed. Harry Pratt, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, alleged to have been committed on November 13 last, entered a plea of not guilty. Mr. Flanagan appeared. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

LeRoy Hamikon, charged with incest, alleged to have been committed November 17 last, also entered a plea of not guilty and bail was fixed. F. W. Brooks appeared for defendant.

Charles DePuy, charged with abandonment of children in December of 1932, entered a plea of not guilty. Palmer A. Canfield appeared for defendant. Bail was fixed at $500.

Francis A. Waters, Jr., charged with failure to secure compensation for employes, alleged to have taken place on January 20, 1933, entered a plea of not guilty and bail was fixed at $500. A. J. Cook appeared for defendant.

Jurors were excused until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning when criminal matters will again be taken up. Several youths who have been on parole reported and parole was continued until the next term of court.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

A civil calendar to be taken up for trial Monday, January 16, was made up as follows: No. 1, 8, 10, 11 and 12, 21, 22, 23, 27, 28 and 34.

The criminal calendar is being taken up during the first week of the term instead of after the civil calendar has been disposed of as is customary.

VLADIMIR DE PACHMANN, PIANIST, DIES IN ROME

AN music lovers in Kingston who were privileged to hear Vladimir De Pachmann, the most perfect performer of Chopin's music since the time of Chopin himself, either on his appearances in this city or at Poughkeepsie or elsewhere, will learn with profound regret of his death in Rome on January 6. Erratic in many ways, De Pachmann was yet a superb and exquisite pianist, especially in his playing of Chopin's music.

Today no other master piano artists are comparable with him in their presentation of Chopin to the musical world. The following news relative to the death and burial of this famous musician has been received from the A.P.

Rome, Jan. 8 (AP).—Vladimir De Pachmann was buried this morning as simply as the ordinary workman who sat in the gallery of a concert hall to hear him at the piano. A few days before his death he said: "I have given all my money to help poor musicians, and I don't want an expensive funeral."

A hearse with only three bearers, followed by an automobile hearing his two sons, both of Paris, and his impresario, Francesco Pallottelli, carried the body to the Campo Verano Cemetery without a preliminary ceremony. A Capuchin monk read the last prayers and sprinkled holy water over the coffin.

Missionary Meeting.

The Missionary Society meeting and cafeteria supper which was to have been held at the Ponckhockie Congregational Church this Friday evening has been postponed on account of the grip epidemic.

Carey States His Case Concerning Bond Issue

Flatbush Avenue from Garden street to Albany Avenue? When it means the widening of Foxhall Avenue? Route 9-W in their wards—from the railroad tracks to Flatbush Avenue?

11. Why does Alderman Relyea object when it cost $9,700.00 for a first class pavement on Washington Avenue and Fair street, where the best of material was needed to carry traffic from the new state road?

Why should he object when $50,000.00 of the total will be used in his ward to put a new concrete road along the Boulevard?

12. Why should Alderman Zucca object when one of the projects in his ward is the changing of sewer drainage in front of the Governor Clinton Hotel to eliminate the flooding conditions in times of heavy rains?

Why should he object when another part of the project is to eliminate the bad corners in the uptown business district?

13. Why should Alderman Schoonmaker object when one of the projects is the building of a concrete wading pool for the children in Forsyth Park?

14. All in all why should any of the Republican Aldermen or any member of the Council object when the entire program is for relief of our unemployed and in giving out the money in wages to the deserving city obtains many needed improvements in return? They should not, and fairly and honestly cannot. They are playing politics.

15. The Board of Public Works would not include any such sum in its budget of any one year to carry on such a program. This is Work Relief, not ordinary work.

16. Now that both sides have been discussed in the press, I have instructed the city clerk to call a special meeting of the Common Council for 7:30 p. m. Friday of this week, January 13, at which time I hope to be up and around, able to attend the meeting and urge the adoption of the program.

EUGENE B. CAREY, Mayor.

OLIVE BRIDGE ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS HOLD PARTY

West Shokan, Jan. 10.—Although last but not by any means the least among Olive's Yuletide festivities was the joint Christmas party sponsored by the Odd Fellows and Olive Rebekahs Lodges given Thursday evening, January 5, in the Olive Bridge Lodge Hall. The party program was preceded by the first New Year's session of Olive Rebekah Lodge, held in the upstairs lodge room. Meanwhile a jolly crowd of the grownups as well as the young folks gathered in the auditorium. The attendance included members of both lodges with their wives and families. There were also a number of visiting members as well as friends and neighbors about the community. The program, which in part had been given previously at the Tongora Church on December 23, was elaborated upon with a number of additional features. The program as given under the direction of Miss Elthia Quick, follows:

Dialogue—Aunt Sabina's Christmas, by seven girls, Margaret Crawford, Virginia Krum, Edna Oakley, Lora Davis, Jennie Beesmer, Ella Krum and Ida May Davis, who very effectively took the leading role of Aunt Sabina, the old maid.

Recitation—Welcome, by Baby Carol Davis.

Recitation—Santa's Little Boy, by Harry Marshall.

Recitation—Welcome, by Anna Oakley.

Recitation—Just Wait, by Lester Davis.

Song—Christmas Wish, by Evelyn and Phyllis Davis.

Recitation, Frank Clearwater.

Recitation, Arnold Shultz.

Recitation, Eugene Cashdollar.

Dialogue—Too Much Candy, by five children.

Recitation—Fooling Santa Claus, by Phyllis Davis.

Exercise—Christmas Garland, by five girls.

Monologue—Getting Even With Big Sister, by Ruth Gordon.

Dialogue—Aunt's Christmas Basket, by six children. In this one of the leading party was taken by Vernon Keator.

Recitation—Missing Santa Claus, by Frances Nichols.

Recitation—Mother's Christmas Hymn, by Gertrude Sampietro.

Star drill, by 7 girls, Lora Davis, leader, Jennie Beesmer, Virginia Krum, Mildred Davis, Florence Krum, Katherine Oakley, Ida Krum.

Closing address by M. Arthur Trowbridge past district deputy of Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge.

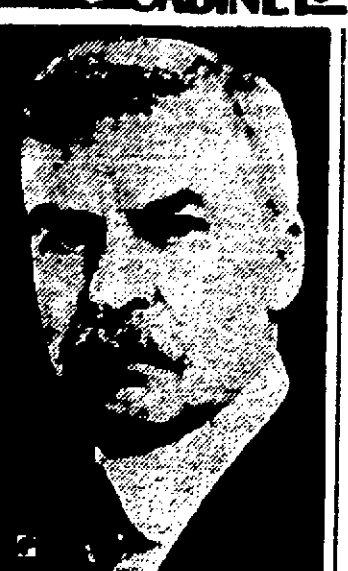

The entire program presented was deserving of the highest commendation. Among the more outstanding features might be mentioned the star drill in which the girls, attired in white dresses, made various picturesque formations bearing their small stars, and tinsel rope which was suspended from the large star staff carried by the leader. During the drill exercise Miss Marion Davis presided at the piano.

The serving of the luncheon followed closely the concluding of the program. The children were served at a long table while trays were passed to the others present, many of whom found their way to the lodge room above. The refreshment menu of which there was a bounteous supply, consisted of sandwiches of various kinds, pickles, cakes, coffee and cocoa, also a box of crackerjack to the children.

During the refreshment period some of the young people gathered about the piano on the stage and voiced the popular hits of the day.

After the serving of the kiddies found their pleasure in playing games and their parents, while with the older high school age to the eldest so-for the full measure of success at the banquet hour grew late and the famous hour of parting came.

A SEAT in the CABINET

THOMAS J. WALSH

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles picturing noteworthy men and women mentioned for posts in the Roosevelt cabinet.)

Small of stature, but sturdy in his fighting raiment, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana—mentioned as one of President Roosevelt's cabinet possibilities—is among the oldest members of the senate, in years and service.

Ordinarily an observant but quiet onlooker in the senate's many wrangles, Walsh steps in with furious vigor clothed in a smooth voice when the debate revolves around national or party issues.

Born in Two Rivers, Wis., June 12, 1859, Walsh first engaged in educational activities as a teacher and high school principal, exhibiting there the keen mind with which he often perplexes opponents in legislative maneuvering.

After practicing law in Helena, Mont., from 1890, he turned toward politics, lost a race for congress in 1906 and 1910, but was elected in 1913 to the senate seat he has held since.

His staunch adherence to the Democratic precepts to which he subscribes has helped bring him many party honors.

MODENA.

Modena, Jan. 9.—The January meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Modena Methodist Episcopal Church, was held at the home of Mrs. Ward Black, Thursday afternoon of the past week. The February meeting of the society will be held at Mrs. George Dunsinber's. Those present at Thursday's meeting were: Mrs. Rufus Jenkins, Mrs. George Dunsinber, Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. Myron Shultz, Mrs. Myron Courter, Sr., Mrs. Robert Guice, Mrs. Hallock Harris, Mrs. Joseph Hasbrouck, Mrs. Theodore Ross of Modena, Mrs. Harold Patridge, Miss Emma Palmer of Ardona and the hostess, Mrs. Ward Black. During the absence of the president, Mrs. Anna Miller, the vice-president, Mrs. George Dunsinber conducted the meeting.

At the initial meeting of the newly appointed board of the Ulster County Home Bureau, which was held at the Home Bureau offices in Kingston, Tuesday afternoon, considerable business was transacted.

During the process of redistricting communities with new supervisors, Mrs. Frank Black, of this place, was appointed supervisor of the new Paltz-Modena area. Mrs. Black's name also appears on the committee in charge of the project of food preparation and nutrition.

Miss Ethel Conover, who was operated on for appendicitis, recently, has left St. Luke's Hospital, where the operation was performed, and is staying with her sister, Mrs. William Ostrander, in Balmain, during her convalescence.

Myron Miller has returned to Clinton Corners to resume his teaching in the school in that place, after spending the holiday vacation at his home in town.

Alex Kraymer of Kingston was a business caller in this place last week.

Thomas Downs, superintendent of the Lathrop and Shea Construction Company, was a business visitor in Poughkeepsie Thursday of last week.

Miss Margaret LeFevre of New Paltz was a recent visitor of friends in this place.

Friday and Mrs. Myron Shultz spent their day in Kingston.

David Manse has returned to Richmond Hill, Long Island, after spending the past holiday vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Manse.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBois Grimm entertained relatives from Newburgh at their home last week.

Thomas Manse and young son were visitors in Kingston Thursday. Many people from this place attended the funeral of Nathaniel Conklin in Clintondale Thursday afternoon.

Ralph Dewey, collector for the Prudential Insurance Company, was a business caller in this section last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coy and Miss Laura Coleman were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood on New Year's Day.

Harry Denton spent the past week-end with relatives in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Carroll and family were among a number of guests entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Donahue in Gardiner.

Thomas Downs returned to West Haven, Conn., after spending a few days of the past week in town.

Hofstadter Report on N. Y. City Government Before Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10 (AP).—The long-awaited Hofstadter committee report, recommending drastic changes in the system of New York city government, rests today in the hands of the 1933 legislature which received it last night without so much as a ripple of excitement.

Their attention divided between the New York city situation and the agreement which had been reached by legislative leaders with Governor Lehman earlier in the night to set up a commission to study beer licensing and liquor control, the New York lawmakers permitted the Hofstadter report to be referred to the senate judiciary committee without debate.

The report of the Republican-controlled investigating committee, handed down from the chair in both houses, passed almost unnoticed among other matters announced in the droning voices of the clerks.

Spectators who had packed the galleries expecting the submission of the report to have the effect, notably in the Democratic senate, of a red flag waved before a bull, were disappointed when not even a mild exchange of comment developed.

The report in general expresses views similar with those of Samuel Seabury, counsel to the committee, and some of the suggestions are similar to those made by Alfred E. Smith when he testified before the committee.

Baby Killer Hunted, Most Brutal Slayer

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—A black-handled stiletto, with a blade six inches long, was the only clue today as detectives hunted the killer of a baby boy in his crib.

Frank Michael Commarano, 4 months old, was sleeping in a darkened room in the Bronx last night. His father, Amanda, 25, was at night school, learning the plumbing trade. Other relatives chatted in an adjoining room.

Silently the killer crept onto a porch at the rear of the Commarano home. The baby slept quietly as a pair of window curtains nearby parted and a hand was thrust into the room. It grasped the stiletto.

Slowly the long knife descended, as if the killer outside in the dark hesitated at the deed. It inflicted a superficial wound, then another. A third time it descended forcefully, ruthlessly, and plunged into the infant's breast, planing the tiny form to the mattress.

Teresa Cammarano, 16-year-old aunt of the baby thought she heard a noise and stepped into the room to investigate. She saw the knife quivering in the child's body and screamed. Other relatives ran in—all except the mother, Josephine, who was held back so that she might not see.

Roosevelt Learns About World Affairs

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—President-elect Roosevelt, thoroughly informed of preliminary negotiations on the impending world economic and disarmament conferences, is ready for immediate action when he takes office March 4.

In fact the lengthy conference yesterday between Mr. Roosevelt and Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state in President Hoover's cabinet, is interpreted by some as meaning that steps already are in progress on these issues and the war debts problems.

Mr. Roosevelt is maintaining silence about the unusual meeting between himself and Mr. Stimson two months before he assumes the Presidency, and the early conference has given rise to apparently well founded speculation.

TRINITY LUTHERAN ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual meeting of Trinity Lutheran Church the following members were elected as members of the church council for three years: Charles Baxter, Harry Marks of Albany Avenue, and William Huppenbauer. William Huppenbauer was elected as permanent president at the congregation's meetings for a year. The meetings of the congregation will be held hereafter on the second Monday nights of the months of January, April, July and October. The number of the church council has been reduced from 15 to nine. The newly elected councilmen will be installed into office next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. It was further resolved to omit holy communion on Christmas hereafter and hold it at the installation service of the church council, allowing more time for the observance of Christmas. It was also decided to place the Christmas tree to one side so that the altar would not be obscured as was the case heretofore with the huge tree standing directly in front of the altar. The various societies rendered reports of their annual activities, which were very encouraging as was also the financial report of the church treasurer, Fred Paulus. At its annual meeting the Senior League elected the following officers for the year: President, Miss Alma Kullmann; vice president, John Schapp; secretary, Miss Catherine Heidron; treasurer, Miss Minnie Kiraly.

Card and Dance Party
Tappen Camp, No. 1, S. O. U. V., and Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 22, will hold a card and dance party at their rooms in Mechanics Hall on Tuesday evening, January 17. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Tips on CONTRACT

Lead-Protecting Bids.

By TOM O'NEIL.

Some psychic bidders are prone to offer a suit with the sole purpose of scaring the opponents from leading that suit. They do this on fair hands which apparently will be short of game or slam possibilities if the suit in question is opened by the adversaries.

Once again the same opponent ought to be enough for success with such a bid, but the psychic addict likes to repeat. Sometimes an advantage in points has been attained by his deception is more than offset when an attempt is made to hoodwink the enemy in a subsequent hand.

Once was enough for Norris A. Huse to be fooled in the same rubbers. He sat north in the following deal:

WEST
♠ 7
♥ A 9 8 4
♦ 7 5
♣ 8 4

♠ A 4
♥ K 5
♦ A 8 6
♣ 6 3

EAST
♠ A 10 5 2
♥ J 6 3
♦ K 3
♣ K 2

SOUTH
♠ K 3
♥ 10 7
♦ J 4 2
♣ A J 10 7 5

East had a desire to try for a game in no trump in case his partner should have hearts and the adversaries should not think enough of their clubs to be aggressive with them. And so he bid one club.

South passed. West, much to east's joy, bid hearts. North passed and east went to three no trump.

South disliked the idea of opening clubs, since he assumed it might be up to a suit headed by the king, queen in the east hand. He wanted his own clubs led up to through east. So he opened his short heart suit, hoping to put north in. A low card was played from dummy and north's king took the trick.

If north had then led his queen of clubs, the declarer would have been set, but north picked the weakness in dummy's diamonds to lead instead. He underled the ace of diamonds and the declarer was home with his game with the aid of a spade finesse.

Right on top of that west had the nerve to try a psychic of a different sort and the result was a penalty.

WEST
♠ 7
♥ A 9 8 4
♦ 7 5
♣ 8 4

NORTH
♠ A 4
♥ K 5
♦ A 8 6
♣ 6 3

EAST
♠ A 10 5 2
♥ J 6 3
♦ K 3
♣ K 2

SOUTH
♠ K 3
♥ 10 7
♦ J 4 2
♣ A J 10 7 5

West and north passed, east offered one no trump, south passed. West bid two diamonds, north two spades, east three diamonds, south three spades and west four spades. West here showed no losses in spades and support for diamonds.

North passed, east went to five diamonds and south passed. Came the psychic. West had visions of an slam if hearts should not be opened. Seeking to discourage a heart lead, he bid five hearts and east went to six diamonds, which Huse in the north seat doubled. It looked to him as if the heart bid was deceptive, especially since he had a doubleton. His partner had assisted spades, and there obviously was some strength south.

North opened a heart. After taking the first tricks, south promptly returned a low heart which Huse gleefully trumped.

Historical Exhibit
Models of the world's most famous diamonds—stones that have played a part in the building of kingdoms and the wrecking of empires—are on exhibition in the hall of the academy of natural science at Philadelphia.

Sea gulls that forage in the gulf off Louisiana coast are getting lazy or wise, says the department of conservation. Instead of flying home at sundown they ride in with the tide.

LADIES' NEEDLECRAFT AND MISSIONARY MEETINGS

Milton, Jan. 10.—The Ladies' Needlecraft Society will hold a dinner social January 29. At the meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. A. Lyons Mrs. Ida May Kent, the new president, presided.

The meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held the same place, Mrs. Edward Young presiding on account of the illness of Mrs. Adelaide Wilke. At this meeting a very interesting letter from the Rev. Mr. Lindholm of Shanghai, China, was read. The Rev. Mr. Lindholm is a former pastor of the Milton Presbyterian Church. He described especially a journey to Peking and sent Christmas greetings to people of Milton.

Mrs. Birdsall Taber read a monologue in the words of a Chinese woman in an American west coast city. During the Needlecraft Society meeting the following program was rendered: Reading of 28th Psalm; prayer, Mrs. Edward Young; minutes of last meeting; treasurer reported $7 in dues, $2.90 paid out. It was voted that Mrs. Birdsall Taber pay $1.10 for bulbs needed for the church and pay for biscuits and rolls for the Christmas supper. Balance on hand $83.63. A letter of appreciation for a letter of sympathy was read by the secretary. A letter of thanks for the Sunshine basket sent to a shut-in, a letter of thanks from the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Fox for the Christmas present, also thanks from the secretary for her Christmas present. It was voted that Mrs. Birdsall Taber take $5 and purchase articles to be made or worked for fancy table at the fair next summer. When the meeting closed Mrs. Lyons served delicious refreshments.

The program rendered at the missionary meeting was as follows: Reading of the 24th Psalm and prayer by Mrs. Edward Young. Minutes of last meeting. Treasurer's report shows decrease of $1.35. Quota of $6 sent to Home Missions. Quota of $6 sent to National Mission.

Balance $7.64. $1.44 paid on basis of clothing, etc., sent to the Mary Potter School, Ontario, North Carolina. Mrs. Young also read a letter from him to the Presbyterian Church telling of his and Mrs. Lindholm's work in China. Mrs. Taber read a monologue, "For or Evil." The secretary read a letter of thanks from the Mary Potter School. The meeting closed with watchword and offering.

Get from McBride Drug Store or drugist 1 oz. of Parmit (Strength). Take this home and add pint hot water and a little sugar. ## MAKES WOMEN LOSE FAT

Miss Mrs. M. Malone of Dayton, Ohio writes: "I weighed 180 lbs. when I was 19. I never was so surprised when I weighed myself the first time I lost 7 pounds. I just bought my first bottle of Kruschen and am down to 140 lbs. and feel better than I have in 10 years."

To take off fat—take one half spoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks—costs a few cents—get it at McBride Drug Store or any drugstore in America. This first bottle falls to convince you in the SAFE and harmless way to lose fat—your money gladly returned. Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely.
